Welcome to Making Music Matter and congratulations on your decision to learn to play an instrument! You are beginning a journey that promises many rewarding experiences. As you travel along this exciting path, the skills you will learn go beyond learning to play an instrument. You will learn how music can express what words alone cannot. You will experience a joy that only music can bring. You will enjoy the satisfaction of making music with others. So, practice hard, learn all you can about music—its power and its mysteries—and above all, have fun!
