Les Grans Regrets

Hayne van Ghiseghem
Arranged by Don Sweete

Hayne van Ghizeghem was a fifteenth century Flemish composer of chansons, of which Les Grans Regrets is a fine example. The dates of his birth and death are uncertain, but records from the time place him as a singer and valet de chambre in the service of Charles The Bold of Flanders in 1472. References from the period describe him as an accomplished lutenist and singer and his chansons were renowned for their beauty, to the extent that they were still popular well into the following century.
