

Slidin' Into Dixie

Clark Cothorn

This brass trio (trumpet, horn, trombone) is often described with a single word: fun! Sliding Into Dixie is a cleverly arranged, triplet feel, original Dixie style tune. Each of the three players has been given something challenging and enjoyable as they are encouraged to let their Dixieland playful side loose a bit.

Clark Cothorn holds a degree in Music Theory and Composition from Grand Canyon University in Phoenix, AZ, and a Master's degree in Communication from Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary in Fort Worth, TX. He claims as his major instrument the trombone, though he has been known to solo now and then on nose flute. His favorite ensembles in which to play, or for which to compose and arrange, include anything smaller than 6 players involving brass. Clark resides in southeastern Michigan.
