PROGRAM NOTE

This delightful work was originally part of Cuban composer Ernesto Lecuona's brilliant six-movement Suite Andalucia, which also included his famous Malaguena. Lecuona is recognized as one of the greatest representative composers of Cuban music, having created some of the best-known and most beloved melodies ever written. Although Andalucia was originally written for Piano, this arrangement for concert band captures the true essence of Lecuona's beautiful melodic lines and incredibly captivating Latin rhythms.

NOTES TO CONDUCTOR

If String Bass is not available on the opening four measures, one Tuba may play mezzo piano (same as m. 5-8) to reinforce the Bass Clarinet.

The initial Alto Saxophone theme at m. 9 may be approached as a section or subtly as a duet, depending on your ensemble.

At. m. 43, be sure the addition of instruments (Trumpets, upper woodwinds, etc.) is dynamically controlled, avoiding harsh contrast and maintaining a beautiful, flowing melodic line.

The tempo change at m. 81 is most appropriately conducted in one, with a special focus on light and clean articulation, transitioning to stronger, heavier accents at m. 97.

The rit. at m. 112 should be gradual but dramatic, transitioning back to the original tempo in m. 116.

The molto rit. and crescendo in m. 148 should lead dramatically to the key change and final thematic statement in the low brass at m. 150.

In m. 180, an effective dim. to piano should occur with the subsequent cresc. leading to a dramatic conclusion.

Overall, the melodic lines should flow continuously above the unique Latin rhythms. If additional percussionists are available, feel free to tastefully incorporate other Latin percussion instruments to enhance the performance.. ENJOY!
