- 1) When two notes in a slur are marked with dashes, there is to be a gentle articulation between each. This bowing is the "portato."
- 2) A note marked with "s" is to be played a bit softer than the preceding note.
- 3) A dash over a note means that the note is to be stressed by playing it a bit more broadly.
- 4) A wavy line (~~~~) indicates a slight ritard throughout its length.
- 5) Notes marked with dots are to be played with the martelé bowing.
- 6) A note marked with a dot and dash (·-) is to be played smoothly but slightly shortened in length.
- 7) A trill over a dotted quarter or dotted half note is to be played as follows: we trill on the note and not on the dot. In other words, we trill on the note but sustain the note for the duration of the dot.
- 8) The two slanted lines (//) mean that the bow is to be lifted from the string before playing the next note.
- 9) The comma (,) means a slight pause for phrasing, with the bow remaining on the string.
- 10) Notes marked "sp" are to be played with the spiccato bowing, about four or five inches from the frog.
- 11) Notes marked "flying spiccato" are to be played upbow below the middle of the bow.
