Im Jahr 2023 verlor ich plötzlich zwei enge Freunde. Ich hatte beide in bedeutenden Bands kennengelernt, in denen ich spielte, und sie waren beide wichtig für meine Entwicklung als Komponist. Florent Bonnetain war Dirigent und Blechbläser, Alexandre Comble war Tubist und Direktor einer Musikschule. Beide waren äußerst engagiert und bewegten Berge, um unglaubliche Projekte zu verwirklichen. Sie unterstützten stets ihre Kollegen sowie junge professionelle Musiker bei der Verwirklichung ihrer Träume.

Daher ist es nur logisch, dass ich eines der wenigen Kammermusikwerke Puccinis auswählte: Crisantemi. Puccini schrieb diese Elegie für Streichquartett in einer einzigen Nacht, nachdem er vom Tod seines Freundes, des Herzogs von Savoyen, erfahren hatte.

Es gibt keine konkrete Beschreibung des Stücks, seine Struktur besteht aus fünf Teilen in Bogenform. Man kann auch einige andere Motive aus Puccinis Musik heraushören, wie die drei Akkorde (aber in Moll) von Scarpia aus Tosca, die mich immer an ein unausweichliches Schicksal erinnern.

Das Stück beginnt in Dunkelheit, indem die tiefsten Instrumente das Coda von Crisantemi spielen, während die Posaunen den Beginn des Werks zitieren. Nach einem geheimnisvollen Cluster beginnt der zweite Teil abrupt mit den Akkorden von Scarpia. Wir hören einige "Fanfaren", die den B-Teil von Crisantemi nutzen, und ich entwickle diesen Abschnitt mit einem Thema weiter, das von Puccinis Opern inspiriert ist (vielleicht erinnern manche Akkordfolgen an E lucevan le stelle aus Tosca).

Im langsamem Mittelteil habe ich entschieden, das erste Solo der Tuba zu geben, die das zweite Thema von Crisantemi spielt. Danach erscheint – nach einer weiteren Version durch die Sopranstimme – ein persönliches Thema, das zunächst als Flügelhorn-Solo erklingt. Der langsame Satz endet mit einer Wiederaufnahme des Crisantemi-Themas, das von gedämpften Blechbläsern gespielt wird und sich zu einem dramatischen Crescendo aufbaut.

Der vierte Teil übernimmt die gleiche Atmosphäre wie der zweite, steigert sich jedoch zunehmend in Spannung (mit Dissonanzen und einer Art polytonalem Verfahren). Der Höhepunkt erreicht seinen dramatischen Ausdruck, wenn das persönliche Thema aus dem langsamem Satz glorreich zurückkehrt.

Am Ende nimmt der letzte Teil die Idee des ersten Abschnitts auf, jedoch auf eine helle und friedliche Weise (auch das Motiv, das anfangs von den tiefen Instrumenten gespielt wurde, erscheint nun in den hohen Holzbläsern). Denn es ist an der Zeit, Abschied zu nehmen. Im letzten Akkord entschied ich mich für eine unklare Harmonie: Die Holzbläser spielen C#-Moll-Akkorde, während die tiefen Instrumente eine offene Quinte zwischen E und B spielen, was einen E-Dur-Akkord mit hinzugefügter Sexte ergeben kann. Ich wollte damit symbolisieren, dass wir trotz der Trauer ohne die physische Präsenz derjenigen weiterleben müssen, die wir verloren haben. Doch sie leben weiter, solange wir nicht aufhören, an sie zu denken.

Pierre-Antoine Savoyat

Pierre-Antoine Savoyat, geboren 1993, ist ein französischer Trompeter und Komponist mit Wohnsitz in Brüssel. Er erwarb ein dreifaches Diplom in klassischer Trompete, Orchesterleitung und Jazztrompete am Regionalkonservatorium von Chalon-sur-Saône, wo er zudem Orgel, freie Improvisation und Komposition studierte.

2016 trat er in die Jazzabteilung des Königlichen Flämischen Konservatoriums von Brüssel ein. Während seines Studiums nahm er Unterricht bei führenden Persönlichkeiten der europäischen Jazzszene, darunter John Ruocco, Diederik Wissels, Jeroen Van Herzele, Jean-Paul Estiévenart und Stéphane Galland, um nur einige zu nennen. Im Rahmen eines Austauschsemesters studierte er außerdem bei Matthieu Michel an der Hochschule für Musik Lausanne. 2021 schloss er sein Masterstudium mit Magna Cum Laude ab und präsentierte seine People Suite in einem beeindruckenden Konzert, das Jazz mit klassisch-zeitgenössischer Sprache verband.

Heute zählt Pierre-Antoine zu den aktivsten Künstlern der belgischen Jazzszene und leitet sein eigenes Quartett Le Monde Merveilleux de Pépito. Sein Debütalbum Memories from a Winter Journey, das im vergangenen November erschien, wurde von der Kritik hochgelobt. Zudem ist er ein gefragter Sideman in verschiedenen Formationen, etwa in Stéphane Gallands neuem Sextett The Rhythm Hunters oder als Guest bei Aka Moon. Von 2020 bis 2022 war er zudem Mitglied des Französischen Nationalen Jugendjazzorchesters unter der Leitung von Franck Tortiller und Denis Badault. Im Jahr 2024 wurde er als Preisträger der Fondation Royaumont ausgezeichnet.

Als Komponist hat Pierre-Antoine für verschiedenste Ensembles geschrieben, ist jedoch insbesondere für seine Werke für britische Brass Bands bekannt. Seine Zweite Sinfonietta, Four Impressions, die vom Hauts-de-France Brass Band unter der Leitung von Luc Vertommen in Auftrag gegeben wurde, erhielt große Anerkennung bei den französischen Meisterschaften 2022, wo Hauts-de-France den Titel gewann, sowie bei den Europameisterschaften in Birmingham im selben Jahr (zweitbeste Aufführung des Wahlstücks). Das Werk wurde von VLAMO für die belgische Landesmeisterschaft 2023 ausgewählt.

Pierre-Antoine war außerdem Finalist des Europäischen Kompositionswettbewerbs des Im Treppenhaus Orchestra (Hannover) und Gewinner des 6. Angelo Inglese Kompositionswettbewerbs für Blasorchester (Italien). Sein musikalischer Stil ist oft eklektisch und unterstreicht seine Vielseitigkeit oder zeigt ambitionierte Verschmelzungen von Genres und Klangsprachen. Nach der Philosophie von Édouard Glissant beschreibt er seine Musik als europäisch-kreolisch.

F

En 2023, j'ai soudainement perdu deux amis proches. Je les ai rencontrés tous les deux dans des groupes importants dans lesquels j'ai joué, et ils ont été essentiels à mon développement en tant que compositeur. Florent Bonnetain était chef d'orchestre et musicien de cuivres, Alexandre Comble était tubiste et directeur d'une école de musique. Tous deux étaient profondément engagés, ils déplaçaient des montagnes pour créer des projets incroyables et soutenaient toujours leurs collègues ainsi que de jeunes musiciens professionnels dans la réalisation de leurs rêves.

Il était donc logique pour moi de choisir Crisantemi, l'une des rares œuvres de musique de chambre de Puccini. Il a écrit cette élégie pour quatuor à cordes en une seule nuit après avoir appris la mort de son ami, le duc de Savoie.

Il n'existe pas de description précise de cette pièce, dont la structure en arche se compose de cinq parties. On peut aussi y entendre quelques motifs issus de la musique de Puccini, comme les trois accords (mais en mineur) de Scarpia dans Tosca, qui me rappellent toujours un destin inéluctable.

L'œuvre commence dans l'obscurité, avec la coda de Crisantemi jouée par les instruments les plus graves, tandis que les trombones citent le début du morceau. Après un cluster mystérieux, la deuxième partie débute brutalement avec les accords de Scarpia. On entend ensuite des "fanfares" utilisant la partie B de Crisantemi, que je développe avec un thème inspiré des opéras de Puccini (certaines progressions harmoniques pourraient rappeler E lucevan le stelle de Tosca).

Dans le mouvement lent central, j'ai choisi de confier le premier solo au tuba, qui joue le deuxième thème de Crisantemi. Ensuite, après une autre version interprétée par la soprano, un thème personnel apparaît, d'abord en solo au bugle. Le mouvement lent se termine par une reprise du thème de Crisantemi, initiée par les cuivres avec sourdine, et s'intensifie progressivement jusqu'à un crescendo dramatique.

La quatrième partie reprend l'atmosphère de la deuxième, mais avec une tension croissante (grâce aux dissonances et à un processus quasi polytonal). Le point culminant est atteint lorsque le thème personnel du mouvement lent revient de manière très solennelle.

À la fin, la dernière partie reprend la même idée que la première, mais de manière lumineuse et apaisée (le motif joué initialement par les instruments graves est cette fois interprété par les bois aigus), car il est temps de dire adieu. Dans l'accord final, j'ai choisi une harmonie ambiguë : les bois jouent des accords de do# mineur, tandis que les instruments graves jouent une quinte ouverte entre mi et si, ce qui peut donner un accord de mi majeur avec une sixte ajoutée.

Je voulais ainsi symboliser que, bien que nous pleurions nos disparus, nous devons continuer à vivre sans leur présence physique. Mais ils restent vivants tant que nous ne cessons pas de penser à eux.

Pierre-Antoine Savoyat

Pierre-Antoine Savoyat, né en 1993, est un trompettiste et compositeur français basé à Bruxelles. Il a obtenu un triple diplôme en trompette classique, direction d'orchestre et trompette jazz au Conservatoire Régional de Chalon-sur-Saône, où il a également étudié l'orgue, l'improvisation libre et la composition.

En 2016, il a intégré le département jazz du Conservatoire Royal Flamand de Bruxelles. Durant ses études, il a suivi les cours de figures majeures de la scène jazz européenne, notamment John Ruocco, Diederik Wissels, Jeroen Van Herzele, Jean-Paul Estiévenart et Stéphane Galland, entre autres. Il a également étudié avec Matthieu Michel à la Haute École de Musique de Lausanne lors d'un semestre d'échange. En 2021, il a obtenu son master Magna Cum Laude et a présenté sa People Suite lors d'un concert impressionnant qui fusionnait jazz et langage classique-contemporain.

Aujourd'hui, Pierre-Antoine est l'un des artistes les plus actifs de la scène jazz belge et dirige son propre quartet, Le Monde Merveilleux de Pépito. Son premier album, Memories from a Winter Journey, sorti en novembre dernier, a été salué par la critique. Il est également un sideman influent dans divers groupes, notamment le nouveau sextet de Stéphane Galland, The Rhythm Hunters, ou encore en tant qu'invité d'Aka Moon. De 2020 à 2022, il a été membre de l'Orchestre National de Jazz des Jeunes en France, sous la direction de Franck Tortiller et Denis Badault. En 2024, il est lauréat de la Fondation Royaumont.

En tant que compositeur, Pierre-Antoine a écrit pour tous types d'ensembles, mais il est surtout connu pour ses œuvres destinées aux brass bands britanniques. Sa Deuxième Sinfonietta, Four Impressions, commandée par le Hauts-de-France Brass Band sous la direction de Luc Vertommen, a été acclamée lors des Championnats de France 2022, où le Hauts-de-France Brass Band a remporté le titre, ainsi qu'aux Championnats d'Europe de Birmingham la même année (deuxième meilleure interprétation de l'œuvre au choix). L'œuvre a été sélectionnée par VLAMO pour le Championnat National de Belgique en 2023.

E

In 2023 I suddenly lost two close friends. I met them both in important bands I played in and they were both important in my development as a composer. Florent Bonnetain was a conductor and brass player, Alexandre Comble was a tubist and director of a music school, they were both very dedicated, they moved mountains to create some incredible projects and they always supported their colleagues and some young professional musicians for the development of their dreams. It is therefore logical that I should choose one of Puccini's few chamber works, Crisantemi. He wrote this elegy for string quartet in one night after hearing of the death of his friend, the Duke of Savoy.

There is no concrete description of the piece, the structure is in five parts, on arch form. You can also hear some other motifs from Puccini's music, like the three chords (but in minor) of Scarpia from Tosca, which always reminds me of an inevitable fate.

The piece opens in the dark, using the coda of Crisantemi by the lowest instruments, when the trombones quote the beginning of the pieces. After a mysterious cluster, we begin the second part brutally, with the chords of Scarpia. We hear some "fanfares" using the B part of Crisantemi, and I also develop this part with a theme inspired by Puccini operas (perhaps some chord progressions will remind you of E Lucevan le Stelle from Tosca). In the central slow movement, I decided to give the first solo to the tuba, using the second theme of Crisantemi, then, after another version by the soprano, a personal theme played first on the flugelhorn solo appears. The slow movement ends with a reprise of Crisantemi's theme, begun by the brass on cup mute and building to a dramatic crescendo. The fourth part uses the same atmosphere of the second part, but it's going with more and more tensions (with dissonances and some kind of polytonal process), and the climax happens when the personal theme of the slow movement comes back very gloriously. At the end, the last part uses the same idea as the first, but in a bright and peaceful way (also the motive played by the low instruments at the beginning is played by the high woodwinds), because it is time to say goodbye. On the last chord, I decided to make an unclear harmony, with the woodwinds playing C# minor chords, while the low instrument plays an open fifth between E and B, which can give an E major chord with the sixth. I wanted to symbolise that even though we mourn, we have to live without the physical presence of those we have lost. But there are still alive, if we don't stop to think about them.

Pierre-Antoine Savoyat

Born in 1993, Pierre-Antoine Savoyat is a French trumpeter and composer based in Brussels. He earned a triple diploma in classical trumpet, orchestral conducting, and jazz trumpet from the Regional Conservatory of Chalon-sur-Saône, where he also studied organ, free improvisation, and composition.

In 2016, he joined the jazz department of the Royal Flemish Conservatory of Brussels. During his studies, he took lessons with key figures from the European jazz scene, including John Ruocco, Diederik Wissels, Jeroen Van Herzele, Jean-Paul Estiévenart, and Stephane Galland, to name a few. He also studied with Matthieu Michel at the Lausanne University of Music during an exchange semester. He graduated with a master's degree Magna Cum Laude in 2021, presenting People Suite in an impressive concert that blended jazz with classical-contemporary language.

Today, Pierre-Antoine is one of the most active artists on the Belgian jazz scene, leading his own quartet, Le Monde Merveilleux de Pépito. His debut album, Memories from a Winter Journey, released last November, has been critically acclaimed. He is also an influential sideman in various groups, such as Stephane Galland's new sextet The Rhythm Hunters, or as a guest with Aka Moon. He was also a member of the French National Youth Jazz Orchestra from 2020 to 2022, under the direction of Franck Tortiller and Denis Badault. In 2024, he is a laureate of the Fondation Royaumont.

As a composer, Pierre-Antoine has written for all types of ensembles but is best known for his works for British brass bands. His second Sinfonietta, Four Impressions, commissioned by the Hauts-de-France Brass Band under the direction of Luc Vertommen, was acclaimed at the French Championships in 2022, where Hauts-de-France won the title, as well as at the European Championships in Birmingham that same year (second-best performance of the own-choice piece). The piece was chosen by VLAMO for the Belgian National Championship in 2023. Pierre-Antoine was also a finalist in the European Composition Competition organized by the Im Treppenhaus Orchestra (Hannover), and winner of the 6th Angelo Inglese Composition Competition for Wind Orchestra (Italy). His musical style is often eclectic, showcasing his versatility, or featuring ambitious blends of genres and languages. Following the philosophy of Édouard Glissant, he defines his music as European-Creole.
