Rehearsal Tracks Mechanical License Agreement

This agreement is entered into between Alfred Publishing Co., Inc. (ALFRED) and the party indicated below (Licensee). ALFRED represents the owner(s) of the copyright to the recorded works from the item currently entitled "Evening In December" (Product):

We grant Licensee the non-exclusive right to duplicate the recordings of only these copyrighted works in this specific Product under the following provisions:

1. These rights are granted only to the Licensee who has purchased this Product. The Product may not be loaned, given away, rented or sold to any other party.
2. The recordings in the Product are for practice only. Making a recording with any of these recordings is strictly prohibited and a violation of copyright law.
3. The copyright notices which appear with the recording of the product should be placed on each copy that Licensee makes.
4. For each recording that is made by Licensee, Licensee agrees to pay ALFRED on behalf of the copyright owners according to the royalty table below. The rates defined in the table are the current statutory rates for compulsory licensing under U.S. copyright law and is based upon the duration of the tracks.

ENTIRE PRODUCT COPIES: Enumerate the number of copies made per part and add the number of copies together. Multiply that total by $.756 to arrive at the Total Royalty Due. If the amount due figures half a cent, then round up to the nearest cent.

Soprano _____ + Alto _____ + Tenor _____ + Bass _____ = _____ copies made x $.756 = Total Royalty Due _____

INDIVIDUAL TRACK COPIES: Enumerate the number of copies made per part, per song in the columns provided. Add together the number of copies per song to arrive at the number of Total Copies per song. Multiply the Total Copies by the applicable Royalty Rate Due per song. Add together all of the totals for the Royalty due per song to arrive at the Total Royalty Due. If the amount due figures half a cent, then round up to the nearest cent
